ANOTHER STAKE TO LARKSPUR.

Harlem certainly had a surprise in store for race-goers Saturday, and the big crowd of 8,000 people that visited the popular track stood astonished and in one breath remarked, "How did they do it?"

In comparison with last season, the grand stand and grounds all around present a transformation scene. Everything, including the judges' and timers' stands, is new and a credit to John Condon's energy. The new stand is a beauty in every respect and its fine furnishings show that expense was not thought of during its erection. It is finished and ceiled in white oak, presenting a clean, healthy appearance, and from every seat a perfect view of the races can be had. From the stand to the track proper is quite a space and there a handsome stone promenade has been built. The betting ring is modeled after the original Harlem ring, only that the roof of the new one is considerably higher, thereby furnishing more light and air. In this department Saturday twenty regular and two field books had all and, in fact, more than they could do.

To top off the pretty new stand was Banks Cregier with a full orchestra, and several times between races the selections played were warmly applauded.

The same officials who conducted the racing so successfully last year were on hand. Colonel Hamilton, with his usual amount of dignity and southern hospitality, presided in the stand, being assisted by Martin Nathanson and Thomas M. Chivington. The popular and competent Dick Dwyer did the starting, and was ably assisted by Arthur and Maurice McKnight.

The program offered Saturday was a cracker-jack, the principle attraction being the Austin Selling Stakes at a mile and a sixteenth, with a value of $2,000, and, although there was no keen contention during the early part of the journey, the race at the end furnished an abundance of excitement. Barney Schreiber's Fly by Night took the track shortly after the start and for awhile it seemed that he was going to make a runaway race of it but on the stretch bend Larkspur joined him and from there home the pair had a bumping match. Fly by Night was the original offender, Buchanan trying to carry Larkspur out and otherwise interfering with her. Master Walsh, who rode the latter, although a trifle undersized, is a game youngster and would not stand for the abuse Buchanan was giving him and Larkspur and took a hand in the rough work himself by pulling in on Fly by Night and carrying him to the extreme inside and eventually winning by a length and a half. After the race Buchanan made a quick bluff and lodged a claim of foul against Larkspur and Walsh. The judges properly rejected the claim and placed the horses the way they finished, Larkspur first, Fly by Night second and Gold Fox third.

There was only one close finish during the afternoon and that was between All Gold and Eva Rice in the last event, the former winning a lucky race by a nose from Eva Rice. All Gold is "Billy" Oliver's Derby candidate, and is a fine looking colt by Rayon d'Or—Merry Nellie. This is the first race Oliver has won in the west this year, and after it he was very jubilant, but when asked by a few western owners why he did not bring good horses from the east if he expected to win races, he became highly indignant.

Garry Hermann won another purse for his owner, Charles H. Smith, in the second race and in doing so displayed a great amount of gameness. The colt broke second, but all in a tangle, and before he got fairly into his stride Matin was a half dozen lengths in front and apparently running easily. This frightened Boland, and about the three-furlongs post he went to work on Garry and drove him fiercely until he got to the front. Under Boland's severe punishment Garry Hermann never flinched, and although he did not seem to have a chance when swinging into the stretch, he eventually won easily. Battus even beat Matin, who tired badly in the last fifty yards.

Hermoso came home by himself in the initial three-quarter race, leaving behind him Barney Schreiber's champion Bannockburn. The latter was hardly ready, but at that ran a good race. It was Oxnard all the way in the nine furlongs selling race, he finishing a length and a half in front of The Bobby and Thomas Carey, both of which should have beaten him.

Bangle, who would be one of the best horses on the Western turf but for his disposition, beat an ordinary lot like breaking sticks in the fifth race. He broke last but was well in his stride and just paraded all the way.

Father Jordan has a hard-luck story. A bay filly strayed away from his stable last Thursday and up to date no trace has been found of her. "The reason I did not start Sofala Saturday is that the field appeared a little large for her," said Barney Schreiber. "The filly is a nervous animal, and although she was fit for a race, I concluded that nothing would be gained had she run. I would like to have it made public that her nervousness alone was the cause of her being scratched."

Jockey Miller's tendency to swing wide on the turn subjected him to a caution by the judges. The horses of Steve L'Hommiedieu, the noted plunger, are at Harlem.

Starter Dwyer fined jockey Buchanan $25 for breaking the barrier.

Until Miss Nobody is schooled to the barrier her entry will not be accepted.

CLAY'S FAREWELL TO IMP.

The mite of Senegambian humanity known as P. Clay will not ride the thundercloud mare Imp again in all his life, unless he gets her out of the stable in the night and scurries off with her across the landscape.

P. Clay, who became known to fame through his ability to sit still and slumber, and not wake up the sleepy mare, has been discharged. It all came about through the little black devil's inability to know when he had a good thing.

A day or two before the race in which Jean Beraud sailed under the wire just ahead of the amazing dusky apparition from Chillicothe, trainer Brossman had P. Clay hoisted into the saddle for the purpose of working out the racer for the Beraud contest. He instructed the diminutive jockey to ride her in certain time and to watch closely for signals in order to regulate the pace.

P. Clay had learned of a deal between Mr. Brossman and Mr. Featherstone, under which jockey O'Connor was to ride Imp whenever Mr. Featherstone had no horse of his own in the impending race. This information was as the hard contact of gravel and cinders to the soul of P. Clay, and he determined to get even with his employer then and there.

As he took Imp out for her trial there was a look of settled determination upon his monkeyish little face, and when he started off it was with the intention of pulling up Imp at the end of the journey "all out."

In pursuit of this aim, he sent the ebony mare along over the track as fast as she had ever moved underneath him, urging her at every stride and paying not the slightest attention to the frantically waving handkerchief which was intended to induce him to slow up.

Mr. Brossman at first thought some mistake had been made, and that his somnolent equine prodigy was running away with her rider. But the attitude of the jockey, as he bent over, sending Imp along at the top of her speed, soon convinced him to the contrary.

Mr. Brossman gritted his teeth a good deal during the rest of the journey and when the jockey with a grin of satisfaction, slipped out of the saddle after it was over, he was promptly, energetically and potentially "fired."

Thus it happens that the sleepy mare from out of the west, and the negro midget who in the past has ridden with her to victory upon numerous occasions, will consort no more from this time out.

Thus, too, perhaps, it has occurred that Imp has succumbed to Jean Beraud, for if she had not received the gruelling bestowed by P. Clay, there might possibly—just possibly—have been a different ending to Tuesday's splendid contest between Mr. Whitney's noble horse and Harness & Brossman's sensational mare.—Morning Telegraph.

Winner—Ch. h. by Sir Modred—Fidelity.
Went to post at 2:15. At post 3 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second hand ridden. Third, fourth and fifth driving to the limit. Hermoso is in fine form, liked the dead track, and smothered his field for speed. He is hard to beat at three quarters, when at his best, and is also a good weight carrier. Dr. Walmsley ran consistently. Narvaez rode him for all he was worth all the way. Miss Shanley ran to the mark and hung on more gamely than usual. Rinaldo II. finished with a terrific rush and can be marked for early action at a longer route. Bannockburn looked high and was hardly up to a bruising race. Buchanan took him the longest route. Sly showed considerable speed early, but quit badly in the stretch and was perhaps short.

Hermoso, place, 8 to 5; show, 3 to 5. Dr. Walmsley, place, 2 to 1; show, evens. Miss Shanley, show, 8 to 5. Bannockburn, place, 4 to 5; show, 1 to 3.

Winner—Br. c. by Esher—Silk Gown.
Went to post at 2:50. At post 4 minutes. Start poor. Won easily at the end after a hard early drive; second and third were doing their best. Garry Hermann again showed his superior quality. He was the best and had to be to win, and in doing so he displayed great gameness. The colt's forte is going a route and in this race he had to be hard ridden all the way to keep up. In fact Boland drew his whip at the three-eighths post and punished the colt hard until he got to the front, which was not until in the last hundred yards. Battus ran to the mark and is most consistent. Matin beat the barrier and had he possessed much stamina he could not have lost. As it was he showed a lot of speed, but quit badly in the last furlong. Luerana had no chance to win from where she got away, but she ran a good race. The Cuban Girl showed speed, but not her usual amount.

Scratched—(17921) Janowood, 100; 182882 Manga, 100; 18348 Ben Magen, 103; 18110 The Butcher, 103; (17366) Sofala, 115; 182033 Anxious, 100.

Garry Hermann, place, out. Battus, place, 2 to 1; show, evens. Matin, show, 6 to 5.

Winner—B. g. by Strathmore—Eloise.
Went to post at 3:25. Off at the first break to a good start. Won driving and out to the last ounce; second, third and fourth were also driving to the limit. Oxnard broke well on his stride and showed a lot of speed. Rose made every post a winning one and it was well that he did for the gelding was tiring badly. Both The Bobby and Thomas Carey ran better than the winner. The Bobby was poorly ridden, also had bad racing luck and from the three-furlong post made up a lot of ground. Thomas Carey got into a bad jam on the first turn. Waldo had to pull him up almost to a standstill and run around all the other horses. Walkenshaw had no excuses. Astor was raced into subjection by Oxnard in the first three-quarters and when he stopped he stopped he stopped all over.

Oxnard, place, 6 to 1; show, 3 to 1. The Bobby, place, 5 to 1; show, 2 to 1. Thomas Carey place, 1 to 2; show, out.

Winner—B. f. by Scorpion—Linderlette.
Went to post at 3:55. At post 3 minutes. Start good. Won driving and staggering and out to the last ounce; second the same; third and fourth also had a battle royal. Larkspur improved suddenly since her last out and under a good ride ran a cracking good race. She and Fly by Night had a bumping match all through the stretch. The latter was the first offender and consequently Buchanan's claim of foul was ignored by the judges. Better ridden, Fly by Night could not have lost. Buchanan made altogether too much use of him down the backstretch and naturally when the pinch came he had nothing left to finish with. This is a good horse and seems to be in good form. The first two always had the race between them. Gold Fox seemed to be handicapped by the going. Molo ran his usual honest race and Barrack made a good showing. Bishop Reed retired early. Neither Brisk nor Sam Fullen showed much speed. In fact the latter's race was a bad one.

Larkspur, place, 6 to 1; show, 3 to 1. Fly by Night, place, 6 to 5; show, 3 to 5. Gold Fox, show, 3 to 10.

Winner—B. h. by Iroquois—Braellet.
Went to post at 4:30. Off at the first break to a good start. Won easily; there was keen action behind the winner. Bangle broke from the rear flying, had clear sailing, ran kindly and made his field look cheap. He is a horse of good class, but has the habit of sulking, but under Boland he was on his good behavior. Graziella improved a lot since her last race at Hawthorne and showed a flash of her best form. Brulare was a contender all the way and can win when placed right. Star Chime was bumped and jostled and did not near run his race. Sidbow showed but little speed and can do better. Emma M. is a speedy filly, but hanging to Bangle in the first part of the race caused her to quit when the pinch came in the stretch.

Time, 124, 251, 52, 1:19, 1:46.

Winner—Ch. c. by Rayon d'Or—Merry Nellie.
Went to post at 5:05. Off at the first break to a good start. Won driving and out to the last ounce; second, third and fourth were doing their best. All Gold, under a good ride, ran a good, game race. Knight used good judgment in not drawing his whip at the end and rode a clever finish with his hands. Eva Rice perhaps should have won. Devin let Knight steal away from him in the stretch and was a trifle overconfident. Donna Rita improves with every start and should be able to win a purse soon. She was coming very strong at the finish. Malay was handicapped by a poor ride and also had bad racing luck. This is not his race. Orimar was shy of speed and ran below the mark.

Scratched—17996 Alpaca, 90; 18410 Barrack, 92.

All Gold, place, 9 to 5; show, 4 to 5. Eva Rice, place, 1 to 2; show, out. Donna Rita, show, 3 to 1. Malay, place, 8 to 5; show, 4 to 5.
